The Center Harbor Red Cross has been very active during the past year and 105 garments and 200 pieces for layettes were made while we were still a branch of the Center Sandwich Chapter; also 40 knitted articles.

In July we became a branch of the Meredith Chapter and since then have made 72 garments and 11,856 surgical dressings. One class in Home Nursing and two classes in First Aid were held during the winter of 1942 and 5 classes in First Aid were held at two of our girls' camps. Two standard and one junior class was held at Pinelands and one standard and one junior was held at Singing Eagle Lodge.

Six women from Center Harbor attended the nutri tion class in Meredith, and a very good First Aid Center has been set up in the library basement.

The Junior Red Cross held their roll call in November and they also have been active. They collected scrap iron, for which they received $43.00. $33.00 of this amount has been turned into the Relief Fund.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

Changes in Teaching Staff and Administration

Three changes in the teaching staff are noted for the present year. Both Miss Moulton and Miss Sargent left Center Harbor last June to secure positions elsewhere, and the village school continues under Mrs. Newman and Mrs. Bartlett. The Town House School started the year under Mrs. Weeks, but at Thanksgiving she asked for a leave of absence, which was granted; and Miss Cox was employed in her place. We are fortunate, in a time of such scarcity of good teachers, to find experienced people for all these positions.

Due to the small enrollment at West Center Harbor —only two pupils in that district residing in this town —it seemed advisable to close that school last June. A number of children, however, live just across the line in Holderness; so the Holderness School District has voted to maintain the school for the present year, renting the building from us and accepting our two as tuition pupils. Mrs. Smith continues as the teacher, being employed by the Holderness School Board.

School in War Time

More and more the impact of wartime conditions is making itself felt in the lives of our children. Although we may work earnestly to provide the normal conditions of work, play, and growth to which childhood is entitled, it is increasingly difficult to do so.

Your teachers and superintendent are called on to devote many hours to duties quite apart from the job you are paying them to do. The rationing of food and fuel oil, and the sale of war stamps and bonds, represent only a part of our duty to Uncle Sam and the boys in the service. In order to save gasoline and tires, it has been necessary to check over with care all the school bus routes in the nation. These routes have been combined in some cases, and frequently shortened, requiring children to walk part-way between home and school. Lack of transportation has also obliged us to curtail teachers' meetings for the duration.

Some benefits to children, however, may develop out of the war emergency. An increased emphasis on health and physical education is one important advantage. Many teachers have availed themselves of the First Aid courses conducted by the Red Cross. Much attention is being given to the matter of nutrition of growing children, and school lunches are provided in many schools throughout the country. Special efforts are being made to interest children in gardening under the "Food for Victory" program. Such things as these ought not to have to wait until a war comes; and they should be continued after the conflict is over.

Practical aspects of education, especially as related to war service, are emphasized, more particularly with high school pupils. The progress of aviation demands more emphasis on mathematics, mechanical skills, study of weather conditions, and principles of flight. A new slant on geography has been developed; the distance between two cities may now be measured as a straight line, even though a range of mountains may lie between them.

School costs shot upward rapidly during the course of the first World War in 1917 and 1918. The teacher shortage is definitely more serious now than it was then, and the high wages now paid for various types of war work are influencing the trend of teachers' salaries today. No one can foretell with accuracy what the prevailing rate of increase may be for next year, but it takes no prophetic insight to forecast some increase in the salary schedules of teachers in general throughout the State.
